

PRESS RELEASE
10th September 2007

The Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) uses PortaSnack® for their Garden Explorers club

The Royal Horticultural Society is the UK's leading gardening charity and this year has launched a new family membership package—the RHS Garden Explorers club, aimed at children and families, to promote gardening for all ages, events, online games and fun activities.

PortaBrands Ltd were approached by the RHS to design a picnic box for children – 'PortaSnack® for kids'. The picnic box is artistically appealing to children, but at the same time educating them to look after nature in a fun way – with help from the Garden Explorer characters and their insect friends. The picnic box has been well received by the RHS and Jane Cookson; Catering and Contracts Manager commented that she is; “so pleased with the carrier and its sustainable, eye-catching qualities.”

PortaSnack® is a patented carrier, which very easily turns into a meal tray, with optional shoulder strap. It is made from litho printed 370 g/m² Frovi Carry carton board sourced from managed forests with FSC certification and is manufactured by MSO Cleland in Belfast (www.msocleland.com).

If you would like more information, please contact ian.bates@portabrands.com or visit www.portabrands.com.

For more information about the RHS Garden Explorers club, visit: www.rhs.org.uk/Explorers.